Leadership needs vision. GRAWE Banking Group is managed by outstanding individuals and the team’s entrepreneurial foresight truly sets it apart.

The leadership team is greatly diversified. Each member offers their own strengths and is an eminent expert in their field. Together, those individuals combine many years of experience in the financial sector with a shared goal: making GRAWE Banking Group even more successful.

Almost all members of the board of directors have an academic background, in a wide range of subjects. The key focus of their various academic degrees is business economics. However, members of the team also hold degrees in economics, law, telematics management and even geophysics. Altogether, the board members have a total of around 100 years’ experience in serving on boards of directors in the financial sector. This means that each member has an average of more than eleven years of experience, which is exceptionally high for the financial sector, both within and outside Austria.

Making a contribution and bringing about positive change are not just empty phrases for the board members; they actively engage with cultural, church-based and charitable organisations.

Modern & innovative private banking.
Following dynamic growth over the last few years and a rapid increase in the volume of client funds entrusted to us, Capital Bank based in Graz is now one of the leading private banks in Austria.

As an innovative private bank, Capital Bank does not run after a changing environment in private banking but has a significant involvement in pioneering the changes themselves. It was the first Austrian bank to dare to introduce independent fee-based advice, as part of which all hidden fees and commissions from product providers are disclosed and passed on to clients.

It has also led the field in terms of a "white" money strategy. The bank supports clients with the repatriation of foreign assets. In 2014, it established a focus on philanthropic advice with the creation of the "Stiftung Philanthropie Österreich", a private not-for-profit foundation in Austria dedicated to philanthropy. Capital Bank is therefore the first bank in Austria to offer a framework for the optimal practical implementation of corporate social responsibility.

Core private banking business.
Private banking is Capital Bank’s core business. The assets under management currently amount to €16 billion.

The Family Office unit specialises in client relationship management for ultra high-net-worth individuals, private charitable foundations and family businesses. Numerous well-known business families and a rising number of private foundations rely on the service provided by this specialist unit.

Expect more.
In 2014, Capital Bank received the accolade of best private bank in Austria and was ranked number two in Europe. You can expect the following from the bank:

• fairness guarantee: we operate free of any product-related constraints
• performance-related fees
• transparency in terms of pricing and services
• tax-efficient solutions
• alternative investment expertise
Transparent, honest and fair.

Vienna’s oldest private bank.
Established in 1832.
With 185 years of experience and consulting quality at the highest level, the Schelhammer & Schattera banking house has had a long-standing commitment to offer its customers extraordinary service in all matters relating to investments and financing.

Investments and financing.
Private banking using cutting-edge resources in connection with a value-oriented access which is unique to the market characterise the position of Vienna’s oldest private bank which is located in the immediate vicinity of the Stephansdom.

On the lending side, the banking house contributes a particular strength in the financing of residential property. The bank focuses its acquisition activities not only on church customers and NGOs, but also on companies and self-employed persons whose economic orientation is characterised by the idea of ethics and sustainability.

Gold and coins dealer for private investors.
Over many years, the Schelhammer & Schattera banking house has become an established trading venue for gold and other precious metals for private investors, having its own consulting centre with specially trained staff.

Ethical and sustainable financial products.
The Schelhammer & Schattera brand was built specifically for positioning the brand as pioneer and pacemaker for ethical and sustainable financial products in Austria. Accordingly, value orientation is at the heart of all business lines of the banking house. This is also confirmed by the Forum Nachhaltige Geldanlagen (FNG), the professional association for sustainable investments in Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

The Schelhammer & Schattera banking house is the leading provider of ethical and sustainable banking services. Its product range covers saving, securities, investment funds and financing. One focus is on asset management within the scope of private banking. Operating as a universal bank, Schelhammer & Schattera also offers payment transactions and online banking, and distributes insurance products and real property of the GRAWE group of companies.

Concerning ethical questions, the banking house is supported by an independent and voluntary ethics committee, which is composed of personalities from church, the world of business and science, having an extraordinary wide range of ethics know-how. The criteria defined by the ethics committee form the basis for selecting the investment universe by the sustainability rating agency oekom research AG.

Responsible investments.
For the Schelhammer & Schattera banking house, sustainable investments in companies or states means that not only financial but also ethical, social and ecological objectives are taken into account for selecting and realising the investment, and certain controversial activities are excluded. Investments are only made in companies adhering to ecological and social principles, whose products and services generate an economical, ecological and social benefit, and in government bonds meeting the strict selection criteria.

Many banks do everything. Brüll Kallmus Bank is focused on just one thing.
To act on behalf of and, above all, in the interests of the client. This distinguishes Brüll Kallmus Bank as one of the leading bond houses in German-speaking countries. Operations at Brüll Kallmus Bank focus on debt, capital markets and bond brokerage business. The bank assists its clients in the issuing of bonds and promissory notes. It places these products on the primary market and arranges deals in the secondary market. As the bond specialist in the GRAWE Banking Group, the bank also sells funds for Security KAG and securities issued by Bank Burgenland. It carries out an average of 500 trades per year. The emphasis is on quality rather than quantity.

Connecting people: focus on the client.
Back up the services is a professional platform with highly skilled employees who act as the point of contact for clients. Brüll Kallmus Bank also has access to a large network of institutional investors (insurance companies, investment funds, public sector). The employees are independent individuals who both think and act on their own initiative. The interests of the client are always at the heart of everything the bank does. So often, business clients who begin with a one-time transaction turn into long-standing partners. This is because, for the employees of Brüll Kallmus Bank, a sale is not just about closing a transaction. It is the start of a personal relationship with the client. And the basis for a strong network.

Clients in Austria, Germany, Slovenia and Switzerland, as well as sometimes in the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Italy and Hungary rely on the bond specialists every day.

Tradition – bankers since 1884.
Tradition and strong roots are a major feature of Brüll Kallmus Bank, not least because of its history. In 1884, Eugen Brüll and Gustav Kallmus founded Bankhaus Brüll & Kallmus in Vienna. Even at that time, the bank focused on securities trading and included among its clients high-profile individuals such as Franz Lehár and Oskar Strauß. More than 120 years later in 2008, the bank was re-established as Brüll Kallmus Bank with branches in Graz and Linz. There are now further branches in Vienna and Sežana.

Innovation.
Despite the long history, Brüll Kallmus Bank remains innovative, basing its approach on long-term trends. Complex issues ultimately require clear solutions. Securities trading is a dynamic process. The ability to adapt, act calmly and rationally, and apply expertise are the critical factors. The bank’s issuing activities are not just limited to standard products, but also cover various niche markets. However, in all cases, the bank ensures that it continues to apply one overriding principle, namely that the products placed must be simple, understandable and transparent.

Reputation.
The asset management company in the GRAWE Banking Group has been in existence since 1989 and currently manages 64 investment funds for retail and institutional investors with a value of more than €4.7 billion. Security KAG’s guiding principle is that it assumes responsibility for individuals and their requirements and not simply their money.

It places great emphasis on the precise consideration of opportunities and risks rather than making wild promises about potential income. The primarily institutional clients value the unique knowledge that the company brings to complex investment strategies. The company’s day-to-day activities begin where others start to run into difficulty.

Security KAG works with know-how from experienced staff using highly analytical principles from financial mathematics. “In oto vis – our strength lies in taking our time”. This is a motto that has allowed us to progress without floundering, particularly during periods when others are often making completely illogical, hasty decisions.

Innovation.
Security KAG and its investment funds have for some years been one of the anchors in the Austrian investment funds industry. The funds offered by the company range from a fiduciary investment fund to eastern European equity funds and have attracted numerous awards over the last few years.

Adjustments have been made in the past year in both the company and the investment approach to give greater emphasis to sustainability. We take into account ethical and environmental criteria as well as economic requirements. Our objective is to generate asset allocation components that deliver value added from both economic and sustainability perspectives.

Security KAG was able to steadily increase its market share over the past years. Also in 2016 the trend of superior organic growth prevailed. The base of assets under management was additionally strengthened by the transfer of the product portfolio that was formerly managed by Schelhammer & Schattera KAG. Currently Security KAG is the second largest provider of sustainable mutual funds in Austria.

Tradition.
Like the parent in the group, Grazer Wechselseitige Versicherung, Security KAG also considers itself to be a team of tough, industrious, but also dynamic and innovative, designers.

Designers who combine tradition and innovation into products and services that are used to build the cornerstones of many successful businesses and key pillars of the Austrian economy.

Die Plattform: the basis for every successful investment

‘Die Plattform’, a service of Capital Bank, is the leading B2B investment fund platform in Austria.

Initially run as the ‘Fund support’ department for funds of asset management firm Security KAG, the service ‘die Plattform’ was launched in 2004 as an independent fund platform for clients of financial advisers.

‘Die Plattform’ was the first provider to offer an all-in-one investment account for the simplified settlement of securities transactions involving thousands of financial instruments.

Since its establishment, ‘die Plattform’ has specialised in collaborating with securities firms and securities service providers.

The business model is based on three pillars.
- Simplified settlement for clients combined with competent service for financial advisers.
- Product neutrality with the goal of ‘one investment account for all’. The offering was rounded off by the interest-bearing account ‘KONTO plus’ in 2012.

The combination of simple settlement and professional advice represents an unbeatable offer for clients and thus the basis for a successful investment.

Transparency for clients and financial advisers.

Using Capital Bank’s online information system (CIS), clients can view their investments, account and all transactions at any time.

Strong roots.

Sopron Bank was established in 2003 by Bank Burgenland. Since May 2006, Bank Burgenland and its subsidiaries have been in the private sector and form part of the Grazer Wechselseitige Versicherung Group.

From the very beginning, the objective of Sopron Bank was to establish and build on the successful regional banking concept, primarily in the counties of Győr–Moson–Sopron, Vas and Zala in western Hungary. Given the eastward expansion of the EU, the historically singular position of Hungary and, not least, the associated rise in cross-border economic activity, Sopron Bank is increasingly benefiting from the integration of a region that shares common roots.

In addition to the Sopron head office, Sopron Bank currently has branches at 12 other locations in western Hungary.

Regional and personal.

Increasing globalisation and the trend towards the creation of major multinational conglomerates is resulting in ever greater anonymity. It is therefore becoming hugely important to offer regionally based, personal support for individual clients, particularly in the banking services business.

The employees of Sopron Bank and the bank’s decision-makers know the market because they live in the region. They are therefore in a better position to address the wishes and needs of the clients.

Bespoke advice.

The bank focuses on providing customised financing for regional businesses, addressing the particular requirements of the region and on assisting clients in the cross-border economic area facilitated by the European Union.

The clients of Sopron Bank are mainly micro, small and medium-sized businesses in western Hungary as far as Budapest. However, retail clients in this region also benefit from the expertise and significant professional skills of employees in the branches.

Sopron Bank offers tailored financing solutions and is a full-service provider covering banking, insurance and investment requirements.

The bank also focuses on regional businesses and Austro-Hungarian joint ventures. Demand from Hungarian retail clients is becoming increasingly important and is generating additional potential for growth.

The real estate project developer. BK Immo was established in mid-2009 as a real estate project developer in the Grazer Wechselseitige Versicherung Group. In addition to constructing new buy-to-let properties, the company focuses on the renovation and redevelopment of old properties, which are offered to clients for investment with the company acting as the initiator of property development models.

High yields and financially sound. The potential subsidies and tax breaks available in connection with comprehensive renovation or redevelopment make the property developer model an exceedingly profitable form of real estate investment. As a company in the GRAWE Banking Group, BK Immo signifies professional real estate management combined with the security of a financially sound partner.

The objective is to carry out attractive projects – both the renovation or redevelopment of old properties using major or small-scale property development models and the construction of new buy-to-let properties – and thereby create appealing real estate investment opportunities for clients.

High quality at fair prices. BK Immo aims to generate an ongoing range of products and services and offer high quality at fair prices. The challenge at a personal level is, from sometimes difficult circumstances, to use creativity and a sustainable approach to develop an attractive property that will not only provide investors with a lucrative investment opportunity but, over the long term, will also make them feel proud to be the (joint) owners and landlords.
